

The Heron Herald

MAY 2014

1. ANNUAL BANQUET/ ELECTIONS

Tuesday, March 18th

Small turnout but great food and speakers. First, our friend Greg Ferguson described his Barn Swallow research program.

Then, Terry MacIntosh showed us a large number of field botany photos and took us on his interesting and quite humorous career journey.

2. Tuesday, April 15th, 2014

Cynthia Berg and two of her Young Naturalists told us all about their exciting bat box projects.

The Mountain Beaver was Pontus Lingren's topic – he showed and described in detail this seldom seen rodent- its habits, habitat, and “signs”. A learning experience!

FIELD TRIPS

1. Great Blue Heron Reserve

Sat. Mar. 22nd

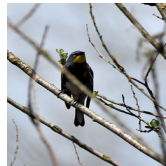

Five of us welcomed back the Herons (145 active nests reported) and observed these swooping swallows and a pair of otters fishing. J. Pollock

2. Cheam Lake Sat. April 12th

Paulina reports a small turnout – but lots to see...
